JOE BUSH WINS ONE.

BOSTON, April 23.—After holding the Red Sox hitless for eight innings today, Thormahlen, rookie left-hander of the New York Yankees' pitching staff, was found for two blows in the last chapter. These, together with a fumble by Bodie with the bases filled, gave Boston a run and the game. The final count was 1 to 0. Joe Bush, who hurled for the victors, was hit safely but three times. With one down in the ninth, Strunk poked a single to left and advanced to third when Ruth, pinch-hitting for Hoblitzel, singled over second. McInnis was purposely passed, and when Bodie fumbled Whitman's sacrifice fly, Strunk romped across the plate with the winning tally.

GEDEON SLAMS BALL.

CLEVELAND, O., April 23.—The Indians made it three out of four in the series from the Browns today, and four out of five on the season, when they trimmed Fielder Jones' crowd, 8 to 2. They hopped all over Gallia in the fifth, seventh and eighth rounds. Steve O'Neill, Jack Graney and Marty Kavanagh leading in the attack. Fred Coumbe pitched a steady game throughout, Gedeon's homer with one on in the fourth being the only time he was in danger, and Gedeon's four-baser was somewhat of a fluke, as Graney thought the ball was foul and did not chase it until too late. Five Cleveland pitchers are on the hospital list with cramps, Morton, Enzmann, Wood, Wilkinson and Groom. Bill Wamby is also laid up.

PATHWAY TO PARK IS MADE ATTRACTIVE FOR ALL

The citizens of the city, who desire to take a quiet stroll, may now have the advantage of a secluded pathway which winds around the base of the bluff at the city cemetery and along the old Middleton ditch to Glenwood park.

Last fall the city purchased eleven acres of ground along the ditch in a narrow strip and had it cleared of underbrush and plowed. The winter rains and snows have packed the earth down quite smoothly so that the old ditch bank makes a broad path and the running water in the ditch has the appearance of a real brook. Rustic bridges have been made at the places where the path crosses the ditch and some trees have been planted. This path forms a short-cut to Glenwood park, there being a foot bridge across the Ogden river on the south side of the park grounds.

Commissioner Miles L. Jones, superintendent of parks, has had men working at different times on the pathway and they have succeeded in making the one kind of a path that most people like when taking a stroll, one that is secluded and has the surroundings of nature.

The entrance to the pathway is on Twentieth street, opposite the Dee school. At this entrance the city will place a rustic archway that will leave an entrance wide enough for three people to walk in abreast, but too narrow for any automobile.

About half way from the entrance to the walk, which is really a narrow wildwood park, is a trail that leads up the bluff into the cemetery, so that those coming from Glenwood park may go up through the cemetery if they desire or those going to the park may go in that way.

Further work will be done to beautify the extension to Glenwood park and make it one of the most pleasant spots in the city. There are spots along the way where families who desire to have a little picnic may find seclusion in a wooded place without going far from home.

Turner. Double play—Smith to Sisler to Nunamaker. Left on bases—St. Louis 6, Cleveland 9. Bases on balls—Off Gallia 6, off Coumbe 4. Hit by pitcher—Chapman by Gallia. Struck out—By Gallia 4, by Coumbe 2.

Miller Having Trouble With Twin Cities in Arranging for Bout

ST. PAUL, Minn., April 23.—The feeling persisted in the twin cities tonight that the proposed championship fight between Jess Willard and Fred Fulton would not be held in St. Paul on the Fourth of July.

Active opposition from several organizations and the announced determination of leaders of these forces to enlist statewide support was regarded as the chief cause for pessimism.

It was believed that this opposition was responsible for an intimation from the capitol that the safety commission would forbid the fight while the United States is involved in war.

The safety commission today listened to arguments and then took the matter under advisement. About 100 women, clergymen, attorneys and other persons attended the hearing.

Colonel J. C. Miller, promoter of the contest, made no new announcement tonight. He was quoted today as declaring that he would give $20,000 if he could shift his fight burdens to other shoulders.

Doings of the McDuffs

Facing newsboys shouting war extras in every city are posters in which British Tommies, gun in hand, reach across a pea green ocean to grasp the hands of the British-Canadian soldiers and shout: "Come across now." These posters which blossomed out before Von Hindenburg's drive bore the slogan: "Britishers, you are needed." The world knows it now. That the call is heeded was shown by a rapid increase of enlistment when news of the "giant offensive" started the public. One father, Thos. McGregor Littlejohn, who with his own father, had fought in the Soudan campaign, within a week brought in his second son and said: "I would disown the lad if he failed when Britain is fighting the fight for America and all the world." Another man who has lost both feet wrote that he wished and hoped he might go to the trenches—as he cannot because American—to serve "as the son of a British soldier should." "I lost both legs below the knees twenty-three years ago," he wrote. "Every time I pass the Mission I feel like going to enlist. If I could only get a chance to join the Red Cross so as to help the wounded I would go in one minute."

The recruits who go with cheers ringing in their ears and with memory of the waving flags and smiling girls do not forget that all "the folks back home" are behind them as they go. Public demonstrations for outgoing recruits are becoming popular among society and business leaders.
